

Wilda Davis

In 2003, the opportunity to work with children and families began in a very subtle way. It would take years of collecting and negotiating child payments to understand that there a passion growing. Over 13 years ago I graduated with a masters degree and began my career as a volunteer crisis hotline worker. I worked as a volunteer for more than a year before finding a job as a therapist. I have experience working as a therapist and as a DCF case manager. I love to help, support, advocate, and care for the individuals, children and families of our community. "You have to love what you do." We want to care for you.
